An Invitation

Come one, come all, to an old-fashioned spread!

The people of Randall County are invited to a watermelon feast at Conner Park in Canyon at 5:30 p. m. Monday, with a promise of all the watermelon he can hold to everyone who comes.

The feed is an outgrowth of an annual picnic for city employees, usually given by the members of the city commission. This year's picnic grew up to include all the citizens of Canyon and all the residents of the county.

The cost of the watermelon feed is being borne by Commissioners Bob Bellah and Paul Lindsey and Mayor Hosea Foster as a personal expense. The commissioners are being helped in serving this year by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

No charge will be made to anyone who attends the supper, which is planned as an affair for the new citizens to meet the old, and for the old to get re-acquainted.

Sheffy Retires After 39 Years As Head of History Department

The history professor who helped to shape the Panhandle's history in a fight to preserve it, is stepping down this month after 39 years of teaching at West Texas State College.

Dr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the history department since 1918, is retiring.

Reticent about his retirement, Dr. Sheffy preferred no public notice about his leaving the WT faculty, telling President James P. Cornette that he was "only one of 999,000 teachers who have retired."

Dr. Cornette announced the beloved '"Fessor's" retirement at WT's summer commencement exercise Friday, when he told also of the retirement of Dr. Hattie M. Anderson, professor of history since 1920.

Well-remembered by thousands of former WT students, particularly for his courses in Texas and Great Plains history, Dr. Sheffy became one of the most widely-known men in West Texas during the 1920's and 1930's, when he traveled the area seeking and gathering materials for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and enlisting support for the society's proposed museum.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of WT, who in 1955 published a history of the society, said, "Without Dr. Sheffy and Dr. Anderson there wouldn't have been a museum. Dr. Sheffy became the leading exponent of the museum and its growth, and was the prime mover in its building."

First president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, when it was organized in 1921, Dr. Sheffy was re-elected to head the now-flourishing group in 1954. He became field secretary for the society in 1930, during the time a concentrated drive was launched to build a museum, was named secretary in 1932, and became executive secretary in 1939, a post he held until 1953.

He was editor of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Review for 18 years, leaving that duty in 1948. He not only obtained articles and features for the publication from many of the Southwest's leading historians, but he encouraged scholarship among college students. For many years the society sponsored research papers aimed mainly toward collection of materials on the history of the Panhandle.

In 1921 Dr. Sheffy quickly espoused the cause of the new society to preserve the artifacts of the rapidly disappearing Panhandle frontier. A few months after the society was formed, he paid a visit to Col. Charles Goodnight, West Texas' most noted trailblazer.

According to Dr. Hill, the professor found the irascible rancher mending a wire gate, and said, "Colonel Goodnight, my name is Sheffy." Goodnight quickly replied, "I don't give a damn what your name is. What the hell do you want?" Dr. Sheffy was successful in what he wanted, because the society was given "ten pictures of early Panhandle days and the complete works of Luther Burbank."

Dr. Hill said, "Sheffy became a missionary for the society," speaking before civic clubs throughout Northwest Texas. From the first year of the society until he became field secretary, Dr. Sheffy traveled

Footballs Fill the Canyon Air

Take Buff Pics Early Saturday

With one win already in the record books this year, West Texas State's football team is expected to continue its winning ways this fall.

The "early" victory was the Buffs' 20-13 win over Mississippi Southern in the Tangerine Bowl Jan. 1 and West Texas fans hope that may be an indication of things to come this autumn.

Some 60 boys are scheduled to start arriving on the campus Friday in preparation for fall workouts. Saturday will be photography day and while NCAA allows drills to start Sunday, Coach Frank Kimbrough will wait until Monday, Sept. 2.

One-third of the expected turnout will be lettermen, including five boys who were starters on the 1956 team that won seven and lost two. A glimpse at the roster indicates the Buffs have experience and depth in the backfield but will have to rely on several young boys in the line.

"Injuries could put us behind the eight ball," remarked Coach Kimbrough, "because in some positions we have only two boys who have ever played any kind of college ball. We're counting heavily on our freshmen to give us the depth we need."

Returning for regular duty in the backfield will be Charlie Sanders, 185-pound fullback, and Ron Mills, 175-pound halfback. Sanders, a senior from Gruver, led the Border Conference in scoring with 72 points last year even though he played the equivalent of about six games. His injured ribs, which sidelined him in the Arizona game, have healed and he should be in top condition.

Named "most valuable player" in the Tangerine Bowl after sparking the Buffs with two touchdowns, Mills is one of the fastest backs on the squad and will give West Texas an explosive punch.

Mills, the team's top rusher last year, and Sanders, who was third, together gained a net 1095 yards rushing and scored 120 points during the regular '56 campaign.

Bob Ratliff, 210-pound battering ram who started several games last year, and Bob Whelchel, 185-pound senior who is returning from the service, will be on hand and could gain starting berths. Both were All-Border Conference choices before stints in the service.

The line, coached by Clark Jarnagin, has three starters back in harness. Jerry Epps, 215-pound guard who has been switched to center, should be outstanding along with James Kauffman, 200-pound Levelland tackle, and Ken Ballard, 190-pound Stinnett end. Kauffman will serve as captain and associate captains will be Mills and Harold Lamb, 215-pound Borger tackle who is expected to corral a starting berth.

When drills get underway, there will be some 25 freshmen getting their first taste of college football. West Texas coaches are well pleased with this year's crop of new faces and are lining up a tough "B" team schedule for them.

Car Inspection Time Here Again

Inspection time has rolled around again for more than four million automobile and truck owners in Texas.

The inspection period has been lengthened this year under a provision of a state law setting Sept. 1, 1957, until April 15, 1958, as the time in which all vehicles must be checked for mechanical defects.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, in announcing the opening of the inspection period, recommended that every owner have his cars and trucks inspected at the beginning of the period. This, he said, will enable vehicle owners to obtain inspection stickers before the holidays and before the last minute "log jam" at inspection stations.

Garrison said that more than 4,200 licensed inspection stations in the state would have stickers on hand by the starting date and would be equipped to check vehicles without delay.

Heart Association To Meet Thursday

The Randall County Heart Association will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the County Commissioners Courtroom. Officers and committee members are urged to be present.

Yanks, Redlegs Tie in Little League

The second half of the Randall County Little League ended in the same manner as the first half with the Redlegs and Yankees tied for first and the Dodgers and Braves tied for second.

The final game of the season was played Thursday night with the Yankees beating the Dodgers by a score of 15-14. The win by the Yankees gave them five wins and four losses for the last half, the same as the Redlegs.

The Dodgers' loss left them with four win and five losses, the same as the Braves.

For the entire season, the Redlegs and Yankees had 10 wins and eight losses each, while the Dodgers and Braves had eight wins and 10 losses each.

In the final game, Yankee pitcher Ronnie Brock gave up 10 hits, five walks and struck out three Dodgers. For the Dodgers, John Byrd started the game and gave up five hits, nine walks and struck out four. Larry Holman finished the game with one hit and two walks.

Scores for the Dodgers were made by Jim Callarman, Bill Albracht, Bill Ashley, John Byrd, Ralph Kuehn, Larry Holman, Marion Hicks, John Brandon and Gary Lee.

Yankee scores were made by Bill Long, Ronnie Brock, Harry Lisle, Wallace Busteed, Tommy Higgins, Bill Phillips and Bruce Winn.

Lisle hit a home run in the first inning for the Yankees.

Take Heed - - Strangers Wanting Gifts Are Around Town Again

Merchants, beware—there are people out to take you for what they can.

Last Saturday, a woman who gave her last name as "Moore" began a trip among the businessmen soliciting advertising to help the schools at Umbarger.

When she reached Cunningham Appliance, A. M. Cunningham decided to check on her story and called the Chamber of Commerce office to see if she was on the up-and-up.

Chamber Manager Roland Black suggested that Cunningham ask a few questions, and tell the woman to go by the chamber office for clearance. When last seen, the woman was turning east at the city hall corner and getting away.

Black called merchants along the highway and on Fourth to warn them, and called the school at Umbarger to see if they had authorized anyone to solicit funds or advertising.

The authorities at the school told Black they had not authorized anyone to represent them in that manner—but the woman could not be found.

Black asked that any merchant refuse donations to strangers who purport to represent an organization in this area unless they can show credentials from the chamber.

Burch Campbell Hurt in Wreck

Burch Campbell was injured early Sunday morning in a one-car wreck east of Canyon as he and two companions, Gordon Williams and Ralph Suges, were headed on a fishing trip to the Currie Ranch.

Investigating officers said the car, driven by Campbell, skidded about 129 feet and hit an embankment sideways. The embankment was at a dead end in the road. The car was traveling east at the time of the accident, and the wreck occurred 6.3 miles east of Canyon.

Campbell was taken to Neblett Hospital by Warren-LaGrone ambulance.

Billie Graham of Monterey, N. M., is visiting a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham.

To those who care:

For many years those of us in the Canyon Area who have or expect to have loved ones buried at Dreamland Cemetery have had to bear the shame of the appearance of the Cemetery. Many have met and sought an answer to our common problem, but until this month no solution has developed.

Again an effort has been made to bring our Cemetery to the standards of attractive appearance and efficient management that all of us would so much like to see, and it is the considered opinion of those making this effort that the solution is in sight.

A new Dreamland Cemetery Association has been formed and it has made an agreement with the county whereby two additional wells will be drilled and equipped, and a sprinkler system will be provided which will be adequate to water the entire cemetery. This new Association is creating a trust fund which is designed to provide perpetual care for the cemetery. This fund is to be raised by the voluntary contributions from those who care. The Association is asking that persons interested contribute $50.00 per grave space for each space owned by them in the Cemetery. Of course, contributions in excess of this amount will be welcomed. If persons interested have more spaces than they expect to use, it will be appreciated if such persons will deed these unneeded spaces back to the Association for resale.

The Association has employed the Warren-La Grone Funeral Chapel of Canyon to manage the Cemetery, which will include acceptance of donations, keeping accurate books and supervising the care of and improvements to the grounds. Their personnel will be glad to explain the proposed program for the cemetery on request.

The plans which have been made and which now are to be put into operation, have been made by persons interested in but one goal — making Dreamland Cemetery into a final resting place for those that have departed, which we, as a community and individually, will not be ashamed of.

Some persons who are not in possession of the facts in connection with the proposed program have become alarmed about being forced to contribute to it. The directors of the association want it clearly understood that participation is on a voluntary basis — for those who care.

Your cooperation and assistance will be appreciated.

Eagles Started Practice Monday

With 10 returning lettermen from last ayear's bi-district championship team, Canyon High Head Coach Bill Davis began two-a-day drills Monday morning in preparation for the first game of the season against Slaton on Sept. 6 in Buffalo Stadium.

Six of last year's starters are among the 47 boys who reported for workouts. Coach Davis expects another 12 or 15 boys to report after the beginning of school, and plans to field Freshman and B teams in addition to the A squad.

Starters returning this year are Dory Funk, Richard Burgess, John Robert Wheelock, Leonard Miller, Eddy Boydstun and A. L. Pruett.

Pruett will handle the quarterback chores. Last year he alternated with Charles Neblett as starter in the quarterback slot and played some in the halfback position.

Burgess was a starter at tackle, and Funk was a part-time starter at tackle. Wheelock was the first string center last year and Boydstun was a mainstay in the backfield at halfback. Miller was a starting end.

Miller and Boydstun have been shifted by Coach Davis. Miller will be a halfback this year and Boydstun will be the fullback.

Other returning lettermen are Alan Hanks, Roy Harris, Roy Hunter and Ronnie Huyck. Huyck will probably be the other starting halfback this season, Coach Davis said.

During last year's winning season, Pruett attempted 33 passes, completed 12, had two intercepted and made 222 yards off his passes. He carried the ball 55 times for 251 yards and received two passes for 30 yards. He scored three touchdowns, and averaged 34.1 yards off 28 punts.

Boydstun carried the ball 84 times for 338 yards, caught seven passes for 62 yards, tried an incomplete pass and made four touchdowns.

At end, Miller caught seven passes for 109 yards and one score.

Huyck, who played more defense than offense last year, carried the ball 13 times and picked up 41 yards.

Those who have been tentatively selected for the A team, and their playing numbers are:

Pruett, 22, Huyck, 20, Funk, 71, Burgess, 73, Craig Hinger, 11, Wheelock, 50, Tommy Henderson, 30, Howard Lisle, 83, Leonard Miller, 40, Dale Henry, 64, Larry Kitchens, 80, Jerry Parker, 52, Hanks, 60, Harris, 62, Larry Brotherton, 15, Dwayne Ledbetter, 81, Jim Brockwell, 35, Gary Humphries, 25, Boydstun, 45, Hunter, 82, Mac Boswell, 10, Jim Brasher, 72, and Bill Cornette, 70.

P-TA Executives To Meet Thursday

The executive committee of the Canyon Parent-Teachers Association is to meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. James P. Cornette, 2615 Fourth Ave., according to Mrs. Bob Hall, publicity chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Goodman returned from Austin Sunday night. Mr. Goodman, who is to be Counsellor and Supervisor at Happy this year, went to get his wife Thursday after her ten days' visit.

August may seem workaday to oldsters, but for many young families, it's as exciting as June, the month of weddings.

For August is the time for pre-school. Small fry, whose world up to now has been bounded by the front sidewalk and the alley fence, are about to enter the mysterious realm of the schoolroom.

Those with older brothers and sisters have no fear. For them it is real adventure. They now feel grown up — included. Never again will they be left behind for long, lonely days with tricycles and family pup. They'll go where the others go, understand such strange terms as "homeroom," "Miz Adams," and "the principe-pull."

For young firstborns, it's another thing. We saw a tiny, gingham-clad pre-schooler the other morning, walking out of the elementary school between her parents. She clung to a comforting hand on either side. Mother and Dad looked a bit solemn, too. It was as though she had made a first trip to the dentist, or the barber. "You see," they seemed to say, "we told you it would be all right." But all three looked as if they had just kept a pretty important date with Life.

Mothers of pre-school youngsters know it is a milestone. The one who has gone through it before feels mingled regret and relief: regret that little Susie is no longer a baby, relief that she won't feel left out when September comes. But the mother who is having her first experience feels pretty much like the parent whose only child marries and moves out of the home nest. She can't be sorry, and yet she knows that there are days ahead of listening for footsteps that aren't to be heard, feeling the silence of unused toys and an empty house.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leavy, Manager

Wonderful World

It's a wonderful world we're living in.

Modern day science is making it easier every day to do even the simplest things in life. I read the other day about an oven that will cook a whole meal in minutes — electronically. And there are television sets which can be carried easily from room to room, and radios that fit into your pocket.

The telephone company is keeping pace with modern times, too. Take the telephone itself. We've got wall telephones, hang-up telephones and portable telephones—the kind that you can "plug in" wherever you like.

And we've got telephones with volume control which can be regulated for low, medium or high — the kind which is especially helpful for people with impaired hearing. There are telephones in eight decorator colors, too—besides black.

But that's only the beginning. Our "Speakerphone" permits the user to talk with both hands free since it's equipped with a microphone and loudspeaker.

A new and popular time-saver is the Answering and Recording set. This machine answers calls while you're away, and records your caller's message.

Those are just a few of the items that are available today, and you can expect even more new ideas in the future. We are keeping your telephone service in tune with modern living.

Hot Weather Tip

Plenty of people now days are trying to beat the summer heat by staying outdoors. With backyard living so popular, I'd like to suggest that you allow your friends a little more time to answer the next time you call.

We suggest letting the telephone ring ten times — that's about a minute—before you hang up. That way, the person you are calling might find it easier to get to his telephone to answer.

If you spend lots of time outdoors, you'll appreciate this little added courtesy when friends call you, too. Nobody likes to make a mad dash when the telephone rings only to find there's no one on the line.

Speed Your Calls

Many of our customers have found out that their calls go through a lot faster when they call by number. In fact, we think you'll discover they go through twice as fast that way.

If you don't know the number, the operator will be glad to obtain it for you—then jot it down for use later on. Blue Books are just the thing to keep your numbers in, too, and they are available without charge at the telephone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

June Carolyn Davis Becomes Bride Of Robert L. Schulgen Saturday

An altar holding arrangements of mums and pom poms and flanked by two tier arrangements of seven branch candelabra and large floor standards of white mums and white pom poms was the background setting for the solemnizing of nuptial vows by June Carolyn Davis and Robert Louis Schlugen.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Clyde Davis, and the bridegroom is the son of Colonel and Mrs. William A. Schulgen of Miami, Fla.

The Rev. Leo E. Lavoie witnessed the double-ring ceremony at St. Ann's Church. Music before and during the ceremony and traditional processional and recessional wedding marches were played by Mrs. A. L. Wash Jr., cousin of the bride.

The bride's only attendant, Barbara Schulgen, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a yellow, taffeta ballerina length dress styled with a bodice of yellow chiffon which draped into a V- neckline. Her headpiece was a band of sequin medallions with a circular moline veil, and she carried a colonial nosegay of white shasta mums with yellow centers.

Best man was Foster Parker of Lubbock. Serving as ushers were Douglas Lindsey and Jerry Helmer, both of Lubbock.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an informal wedding gown of imported chantilly lace. The scalloped, scooped neckline and the bodice with short sleeves extended into a bouffant skirt with a scalloped lace hemline. Her waist-length French illusion veil was attached to a regal crown adorned with pearls and sequins.

She carried a prayer book arrangement of white stephanotis centered with a white orchid with showers of white satin streamers tied with love knots and stephanotis.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Davis, wore a white imported linen sheath dress with a scoop neckline embroidered in seed pearls and white chalk beads, and her hat was of chalk beaded pearls with matching accessories. Peach glamelias formed her corsage.

Mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Schulgen, wore a light blue linen sheath dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white glamelias.

A reception in the bride's home feted the bridal party. Laid with a white linen cloth, the table held a centerpiece of miniature, entwining, yellow tulle hearts surrounded by yellow roses and yellow satin streamers.

Assisting in the house party were Mrs. R. B. Davis, Mrs. Paul Jackson and Mrs. Richard Joyce of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Foster Parker of Lubbock, Mrs. L. T. Barksdale of Dallas, Mrs. Cecil Hagood of Floyada, and Linda Davis of Glendale, California., Barbara Douglass of Muleshoe, Leonora Lee of Port Arthur and Michael Schulgen of Miami, Fla.

For the wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride chose a dark suit of transitional cotton with black accessories and wore a white orchid corsage. After the trip, the couple will be at home at 2109 B Duke in Lubbock where both will continue their studies at Texas Technological College this fall.

Mrs. Schulgen, a graduate of Canyon High School, is a student of elementary education. The bridegroom is a graduate of Rockhurst High School in Kansas City and is majoring in mechanical engineering.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included John Davis of Glendale, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jackson of Indianapolis, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Barksdale, Cynthia and Michael of Dallas, Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Walsh Jr., Andrew III and Ann of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Manly Ballard and family of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hagood of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jennings and family of Lorenzo.

On Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Davis entertained with a rehearsal dinner at Batson's Dining Room in Amarillo.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

The town of Spanish Fort in Montague County was established on Village Creek, now silted up but then a pretty stream. Just across Red River was, of course, Indian Territory, which was infested by numerous outlaws, who frequently came to Spanish Fort. Three outlaws were lynched not far from the town but in Indian Territory.

Spanish Fort itself witnessed many exciting events. A woman whose husband had been killed moved from the farm into town. Three men were suspected of having killed the farmer. Perhaps the slayers thought that the widow might know too much. One night, her house was fired into; she ran out and was killed. The outrage led to the immediate forming of a posse and three men were tracked into a thicket. The thicket was surrounded, then two brave men —George Howard and Dave Price —crawled into the underbrush, got the drop on the trio and took them prisoner. They were tried; two were hanged and the other received a long prison term.

One of the busiest spots in Spanish Fort was the Cowboy Saloon. On Christmas Eve, about 1882, cowboys shot the front out of the saloon. Hundreds of shells were picked up next morning.

Almost in front of the Cowboy Saloon, a pitched battle took place. Six men (three on each side) met face to face and bullets began flying. When the shooting ended, one group had been wiped out.

But life had its lighter side, too. Broke and thirsty, one cowboy said to another, "Tell you what we'll do. I'll go in the saloon and, after while, you come in and I'll offer to bet the bartender you're wearing socks and, if he won't take me up, then I'll offer to bet that you're not wearing socks."

The other said, "You could lose."

"No," said his buddy, "take off your left sock right now. Then if he bets you're wearing socks, take off your left boot and you'll be barefooted. If he bets the other way, take off your right boot and there the sock will be."

And their little plan worked.

A gambler in Spanish Fort was telling about a train being held up and he concluded, "It was a good thing I didn't have my six-shooter." Someone asked, "What would-a happened if you had had your gun?" The gambler replied, "They'd a-got it, too."

Spanish Fort was missed when the railroad built into the county in 1887 and so the town dwindled until the once turbulent place has only a handful of inhabitants now.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

How much grass does a cow eat in a day 20, 30, 40, or 50 lbs? If the grass is air dry a cow will eat around 20 lbs. a day. When the grass is green and succulent a cow will eat more to get the 20 lbs. of air dry grass. By using 20 lbs. of air dry grass per cow per day you can arrive at a safe stocking rate for your ranch. This safe stocking rate may have to be adjusted due to excess moisture or drouth.

A good way to tell how much grass your ranch is producing is to take a square of 3.1 feet on each side and clip the grass within this area. You then weigh the sample in grams and mulitply by 10 to get the pounds of grass produced per square acre. With this information you can tell how many acres it will take to run a cow.

Technicians of the S. C. S. assisting the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District made a grass clipping on the J.W. Spencer farm last week. Mr. Spencer will use the information obtained in stocking this pasture land.

For more information contact your Supervisors or the local S.C.S. Technicians.

Two Business Department Teachers Added to Faculty for Fall Semester

Appointment of two new assistant professors of business for the 1957-58 year at West Texas State College has been announced by President James P. Cornette.

At the same time, Dr. Cornette announced that Olan J. Lehman, instructor in government and economics, and Zeke Marchant, on leave of absence for two years, would join the School of Business staff in September. Marchant, who has been studying toward the doctorate at North Texas State College, will be an assistant professor.

Bob B. Griffith, head of the commerce department at Panhandle A&M in Goodwell, Okla., and Frances Watson, formerly an instructor at Stephens College, are the two new professors.

Griffith was a graduate assistant at Oklahoma State University and taught at Prague, Okla., High School before going to Panhandle A&M. Married, he holds the B. S. degree from Northwestern Oklahoma State College and the M. S. degree from Oklahoma State University. He is a member of Pi Omega Pi, national honorary business fraternity, and Rho Theta Sigma, another business fraternity.

Miss Watson holds the B. A. from Harding College and the M. Ed. from the University of Texas. She taught three years at Texarkana, Ark., High School, and was a teaching assistant and instructor at the University of Texas before going to Stephens College.

A member of Pi Omega Pi and Phi Lambda Theta at the University of Texas, Miss Watson has been a stenographer, secretary and accounting clerk with the Lion Oil Company in Arkansas and the Sid Richardson Gasoline Company in Fort Worth.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Foreign Aid

This letter is being written during the general debate on the foreign aid appropriation bill. The President has requested $3 billion 386 million. The Appropriations Committee has recommended, in the bill being considered, $2 billion 524 million.

In other words, the Appropriations Committee has recommended to the Congress that the taxpayers be required to ante up only $2½ billion this fiscal year. This is $1 billion 241 million less than the taxpayers were required to put up for the last fiscal year, and $862 million less than requested by the President.

One of the reasons for the reduced amount recommended by the Committee was the fact that the foreign aid program now has in its pipeline $6 billion 195 million. When this is added to the funds recommended by the Appropriations Committee in the new bill, it will make the total funds, available for expenditure, the stupendous sum of $8 billion 719 million 760 thousand.

This amount is approximately 2¼ times as large as the annual expenditure requirements of this program as estimated by the military and ICA officials. If there were no new funds appropriated in fiscal 1958 for these purposes, the existing unexpended funds now in the pipelines would run well beyond January, 1959.

I point this out to you because of the tremendous amount of publicity which is being circulated over the country at this time to the effect that a cut in the foreign aid appropriations requested by the President would seriously jeopardize the security of this nation. Apparently little thought has been given to the proposition that the security of this nation may be placed in greater jeopardy if some attention is not given to a phasing out of many parts of this program and a reduction in these tremendous expenditures which have created such a heavy tax burden on the backs of American taxpayers.

Few people realize that the total number of nations in the world is 87. Out of that 87 the United States of America is operating some type of aid program in 67. In other words, direct aid from the American taxpayers is going to over 80 per cent of the nations in the world.

It has been said that the 20 nations in which we are not operating some type of aid program is being measurably helped indirectly by the program which we are operating in the 67 nations. During the debate the Appropriations Committee had on display a chart with the names of all of the nations in the world listed thereon.

Opposite each name was a colored thumbtack. The red thumbtack indicated that the nation was receiving direct aid from this country. The green thumbtack indicated that the nation was not receiving direct aid from this country. The yellow thumbtack indicated the nations contributing aid to other nations.

The only nation which had a yellow thumbtack opposite its name was the United States of America. Sixty-seven nations had red thumbtacks and 20 nations had green thumbtacks. Among those having green thumbtacks were Russia, Canada, New Zealand, Monaco, Switzerland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Liechtenstein, Muscat, Australia, etc.

I point out that, aside from countries of the British Commonwealth, such as Canada, Australia and New Zealand, the large nations not receiving direct aid are the USSR and its satellites. The other nations not receiving aid are small nations, some of which many people have never heard. There are many more facts about this program which would make interesting reading but time and space will not permit me to put them in this letter.

I did want to give you some background of the amount of money involved in this program and the nations to which it is going. In addition, I wanted to call your attention to some remarks which appeared in the hearings on the bill relating to the size of the United States public debt.

It was pointed out that as of June 1, 1957, we had a public debt of approximately 275 billions of dollars. If we could borrow money at 3 per cent interest and make just one payment each year in the amount of 8 billion 368 million 602 thousand 150 dollars and 60 cents, it would require 144 years to finally pay off the existing debt. This means that the final payment would be made in the year 2100 A. D.

It would mean that we had paid paid as a total sum, principal and interest, the staggering amount of 1 trillion 205 billion 78 million 709 thousand 686 dollars and 40 cents. This would not include the repayment of any sums we had borrowed in the meantime.

OBVIOUS CONCLUSIONS

The city editor was lecturing the cub reporter again.

"You use too many words, Wadsworth," he said. "You say here that he was poor but honest. Why not just say he was honest?"

"Again, you say that he was without money or friends. You're wasting space. Simply say that he was without money."

Cherry Blossoms

By DOVIE CHERRY

What a weekend!

What started out to be just a two or three day trip to the mountains of New Mexico at the Double D Ranch in Sapello Canyon turned into a five day vacation with a flash flood thrown in for good measure.

The Charles Hilliers, Bill and I zipped off to the ranch Thursday morning, but before we could get there the rain caught us and thought it would teach us a thing or two about driving on dirt mountain roads while it's raining.

Yesiree. There's nothing like your car sliding off the side of a hill to make you forever wary of big, black thunderclouds in combination with dirty mountain roads.

But, eventually we all got there safe and sound, grabbed fishing poles and got in some pretty good fishing before the sun went down that evening.

Next day, there it was again. That mean old looking cloud. It meant business this time. With 3½ inches in an hour and nine dams breaking above us, we begin to wish we'd brought water wings.

"First time this has happened," the Donnell's (kinfolks to the Canyon Donnells) who own the ranch, told us. Well, we can say we were there.

Well, to make a long story a little bit longer, a few bridges washed out and needless to say we weren't going anywhere. But, only one big bridge was out and by Monday noon we were on our way home and the paper got out on Wednesday after all.

Rain or no rain, it was a fine vacation, I thought. That's beautiful country up there and we couldn't have asked for a better place, or a better cabin to stay in. Fireplace, pine paneling and everything.

Gluttons for punishment, the Bill Cherrys didn't have enough sense to come straight home, but took the long route and went by Taos where we had a visit with Gisella Loeffler and her husband, Dr. Frank Chase.

Gisella, as you will remember, is the Taos artist whose work was exhibited this spring at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. She was also here to meet the Canyon folk and to talk about her paintings.

Gisella and Dr. Chase have a charming, Spanish style home, which, of course, has been given the bright and incomparable Loeffler touch. On a small, winding road just off from the main part of Taos, their home is set in the peace and quiet of large, verdant trees and adobe walls and arches.

We were quite interested in the large, combination dining and living room where many of her paintings and crafts are. On one wall were weather beaten boards with faded paintings which seemed to have possibly been a former gate.

In answer to our queries, Dr. Chase told us the boards were from an old Catholic church at Ranches de Taos. When the church was redecorated, the boards, once brightly painted with the cherub face characters such as Gisella paints, were discarded.

Another point of interest was the gladioli in the Chase home. Of such festive hues as deep blue, royal purple, scarlet reds, and brilliant golds as well as pastel pinks, the gladioli were a touch of striking beauty.

And Gisella's kitchen. It's all Gisella. The cabinets, painted with the delightful and charming, innocent looking cherub face characters on a background of red, give the room unbelievable cheerfulness.

On the walls are bowls, platters and other earthenware, souvenirs of her travels in South America, Mexico and other Latin American countries.

The brief visit we had was a transport into a completely different world. And a nice, relaxing world at that.

Oh, by the way, Gisella is a busy person at the present time. She is doing illustrations for a book on Indians and has been spending every afternoon at the library doing research.

Meanwhile back at the ranch.

The flash flood caused the water supply to the cabins to be shut off (we were really roughing it, weren't we?) and for one day of water shortage, we learned to appreciate a good glass of H2O.

I wished I had counted the times we tried to turn on the faucet and the number of times we found we needed water. Water is really an essential part of our modern lives.

We've got to have water to cook, to wash dishes, to drink, to wash our hands, to bathe, to wash out diapers, to brush our teeth, and the list just goes on and on. But, we never give it a thought until we're out of water.

And it only takes five minutes of knowing that you have no water to make you feel like you've been lost on the Sahara Desert for a week and your waterbag just went dry.

Monday lunch was served by the B's Club of Claude, and the Fairview Club served supper. The next day breakfast was served by the Washburn Club and M's Club of Claude with the noon meal being served by the Wayside Club.

Council program was held Monday at 2 o'clock. New council officers elected were chairman, Mrs. Ela Wilmoth of Fairview; vice-chairman, Mrs. Aline Adams of Wayside; secretary, Mrs. Lorena Austin of Washburn; and treasurer, Mrs. May Butler of Claude.

A report on the state meeting was given by Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Mauverine Roberson of Washburn. About 50 ladies attended the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter and twin granddaughters, Nancy and Donna, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hunter of Amarillo, recently visited Mr. Hunter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Richardson in Beaumont. They also visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ray Hunter in Bakerville, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Red Harding in Riverside, Calif., and enroute home they visited Mr. Hunter's sister in Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawkins and Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Clark spent the weekend in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Bertha Mattock is visiting her niece, Mrs. Knighton, who lives west of Midland.

Bride-Elects Feted at Party

Mrs. Foster Parker and Mrs. Dick Lowrey entertained Ann Moore, bride-elect of Larry Griffin, and June Davis, who became the bride of Bob Schulgen Saturday, with a swimming party Aug. 21 at the country home of Mrs. Lowrey.

Refreshments of chicken salad party sandwiches, nuts, mints, cake and lemonade were served to 15 guests. The hostesses presented the honorees hand painted wooden salad bowls, which were also used as table decorations.

Past Matrons Club To Meet Sept. 10

Due to conflicting dates, the Past Matrons Club of the Eastern Star will meet Sept. 10 at 7 p. m. instead of the previously announced date of Sept. 3. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clyde McElroy.

Visitors last weekend in the Larry Holman home were a brother and three sisters of Mrs. Holman's. They are Mrs. Addie Milner of Pine Bluff, Ark., Mrs. Jamie Talley and Bill Lester of Stephens, Ark., and Mrs. Hope Rogers of Vernon, Texas.

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Things will be a bit different here and there, beginning this week. Aug. 22 was the effective date for most of the hundreds of new laws passed by the 1957 Legislature.

Scores of new laws will affect what you can and can't do from now on. Examples:

1. Manufacture, sale or use of dangerous fireworks are prohibited.

2. News reporters cannot be barred from precinct, county or state political conventions.

3. Parents will be liable for property destruction by their minor children.

4. Garages must report cars left over 30 days.

5. Dangerous substances, such as poisons, must be labeled.

6. Tuition fees at state colleges, beginning this fall, will be doubled.

7. Voters will have to return to the "scratch" method of marking ballots. No more putting an "x" before the name of the person to be voted for.

8. In future special elections for U. S. Senate or Congressman-at-Large posts, runoffs will have to be held unless one man gets a majority vote in the first primary.

9. No more combination banking-insurance companies, such as the late U. S. Trust and Guaranty, can be organized.

10. License plates will cost 10 per cent more from now on to provide more money to buy right of way for roads.

New Agencies Too

Five new state agencies also enter the scene. Foremost is the new independent securities commission which will supervise both insurance and general securities issues. It combines functions formerly divided between the Secretary of State's office and Insurance Commission.

An adult parole division under the Pardons and Paroles board will set up the state's first paid staff to keep tabs on adults paroled from the penitentiary. It has been long sought as a means of returning more prisoners to useful citizenship.

A Tax Study Commission will oversee an analysis of the state's entire tax structure by the Texas Research League. Could eventually lead to a shifting of tax burdens — new taxes for some, less for others.

Other new agencies are the Texas Council on Migrant Labor and the Texas Historical Survey Commission.

Jury Pages Cage

Two Texas Grand Juries, two legislative committees, and lots of just plain Texans are anxious to see how BenJack Cage plans to "blow the lid off" in the ICT probe.

That's what Cage has said he would do when he testifies in the upcoming investigations.

He is set to appear before the Dallas County Grand Jury on Sept. 3. In a surprise move, the Travis County Grand Jury sent Cage a subpoena to appear on Aug. 20. But Cage wasn't there. His attorney, M. R. Irion, said he didn't know where he was, presumed he was visiting his mother in Los Angeles, and indicated he would not return to Texas until Sept. 3.

Travis and Dallas County Grand Juries both face an Oct. 1 adjournment. District Attorney Les Proctor of Austin said Travis County had no desire to be "first" in questioning Cage, but that they were merely working against a shortage of time. Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade said he preferred to have Cage testify there first, but that his appearance in Austin would neither help nor hurt the Dallas County investigation.

Also summoning Cage is the new House general investigating committee which has sent out a subpoena for Aug. 26, and directed Texas Rangers and the Department of Public Safety to search for him. Chairman of the committee, appointed recently by Speaker Waggoner Carr, is Reagan Huffman of Marshall. Members are Reps. H. J. Blanchard, Lubbock; Carl C. Conley, Raymondville; William L. Elliott, Pasadena; and Joe N. Chapman, Sulphur Springs.

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin has been named by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey as chairman of the Senate's new investigating group which also is interested in what Cage has to say about ICT affairs. Herring said, however, that there was no use in the House and Senate committees "plowing the same ground." Since the House already has summoned Cage, it's a question whether he will be asked to appear also before the Senate group.

Serving with Herring on the Senate committee are Sens. Culp Krueger, El Campo; Jarrard Secrest, Temple; Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo; and Frank Owen III, El Paso.

Crops Improve

Picture looks brighter than expected for Texas' 1957 crops, says the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

USDA estimates the state's cotton crop for this year at 3,775,000 bales. It's 4 per cent better than last year and about average for the past 10 years.

Other crop estimates: wheat, 35 million bushels, a million more than originally expected; corn, 39.2 million bushels, 43 per cent above last year; hay, 2 million tons, second largest crop on record; peanuts, 205 million tons, a 233 per cent increase over last year.

Pecans, 30 million pounds, nine per cent better than last year, but four per cent below average; peaches, 765,000 bushels, highest since 1953; pears, 195,000 bushels, 10 per cent below average, but highest since 1953; citrus fruit, prospects favorable, but no estimate; sweet potatoes, 1,020,000 hundred weight, 63 per cent above last year; Irish potatoes, 1,170,000 hundred weight, 24 per cent above last year.

Flu Epidemic Seen

Texas "almost certainly" will have an epidemic of Asiatic flu this fall and winter, say state health officials.

Basis for this prediction is the laboratory samples of virus obtained from Texas patients by the State Health Department. It's a highly communicable strain, says the department's director, Dr. Henry A. Holle. He advised people to be vaccinated as soon as possible.

But availability of vaccine still is a question mark. Production is being rushed, and some cities are setting up priority schedules. Workers performing essential services, such as doctors, nurses, policemen and firemen, will get preference.

Short Snorts

Water storage in Texas' major reservoirs now is almost double what is was a year ago, says the State Water Board. Overall, reservoirs are at 90 per cent of capacity. Streams have returned to "somewhat normal conditions."

A sharp drop in paralytic polio is reported through the first week in August. Improvement is attributed to Salk vaccine.

Claude B. Tate has been named assistant state auditor, replacing William A. Harrison who is serving as Insurance Commissioner.

Dr. LaRoy Noyes has been appointed director of the Livestock Sanitary Commission, effective Sept. 1.

Awarding of a contract for just under $1,000,000 to air condition the House and Senate chambers has been announced by the building commission. Low bid was for $990,600.

Three More Appointments To Faculty Announced by President J. P. Cornette

Appointment of three new instructors, in speech, geology and physical education for women, has completed the faculty for the 1957-58 year at West Texas State College, according to President James P. Cornette.

The additions are Robert L. Antrim, instructor in speech, and technical director for drama; Jerry Harbour, instructor in geology; and Mrs. Mary Cooley, instructor in women's physical education.

For the past two years, Antrim has been an instructor for the laboratory school at Colorado State College of Education, where he earned his A. B. and M. A. degrees. He is assistant technical director for the Little Theatre of the Rockies, and he has worked with this group in producing more than 30 major productions.

Antrim, who is married and has a son, attended the University of Denver and the Plymouth Drama Festival. His wife is a violinist with the Denver Symphony Orchestra and has been a member of the orchestras for the Central City Opera House.

A native of Texas, Harbour earned his B. A. in geology, and has completed work for the M. A. degree, at the University of New Mexico. He attended the Merchant Marine Academy and served six months in the Mediterranean and Caribbean. He served in the Air Force for four years, both as an enlisted man and an officer.

Harbour held a graduate assistantship at New Mexico while studying toward his master's degree. He is married and has two children.

Mrs. Cooley is the former Mary Green, a 1957 graduate of West Texas State. A graduate of Vega High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Green of Wildorado.

Little Axel: "Mama, why does the man hit that pretty lady with the stick? Is he mad at her?"

Mama: "Shush! He isn't hitting her. He is the music director, and keeps time with the stick."

Little Axel: "But why is she hollering then, mama?"

OUCH!

Jones was attempting to find his way home during a blackout. He lighted a match for better observation as he picked his path through the gloom. Curiously enough he saw another bewildered one also approaching with a lighted match in his hand.

"Rather murkey, eh?" cheerfully volunteered Jones. Meeting with no reply, Jones answered himself with a crisp, "It certainly is!" and thereupon walked smack into a plate glass window.

A WILT AS GOOD AS A WILL

A passerby stopped to watch an old man in his garden weeding.

"Which weeds do you consider the easiest to kill?" he asked.

"Widow's weeds," answered the old man. "You only have to say, 'Wilt thou,' and they wilt."

List Varieties of Penalty Wheat

COLLEGE STATION — Because of their inferior milling or baking qualities, 31 wheat varieties have been listed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as undesirable. They will be discounted 20 cents a bushel in price support rates on the 1958 wheat crop.

According to Extension Agronomist R. J. Hodges, several varieties of hard red winter wheats, the type most commonly grown in Texas, are on the list. They are Blue Jacket, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, Kanking, Redchief and Red Jacket. Others listed are soft red winter, hard red spring, durum and white wheat varieties. Local county agents, adds Hodges, have a complete list of the undesirable varieties.

The designated varieties were found to be undesirable for commercial food use. The discount was adopted three years ago in the support operation to discourage the planting of undesirable wheat varieties and lessen the possibilities of U. S. wheat of inferior quality getting into domestic and export channels. Representatives of crop improvement associations have strongly urged the action to help improve the quality of the nation's wheat crop.

The price-support regulations for 1958 will provide for producer certification regarding the undesirable varieties. Because these varieties are difficult to determine from threshed samples of wheat, it will be the producer's responsibility, based on his knowledge of varieties seeded and harvested, to identify the variety going under the price support program.

Hodges points out that some of the undesirable varieties might have protein content high enough for a premium but no protein premiums will apply in determining loan rates. The agronomist suggests a visit with the local county agent for information on the best variety for the area.

WAR HUMOR

The Vicar recalled some amusing experiences during the last war. One of them concerned the annual meeting of a branch of the British Legion of which he used to be the padre.

Once, he said, on being challenged by a sentry, he answered, "Chaplain."

The sentry replied, "Pass, Charlie."

REALLY IS!

Undertaker — Are you one of the mourners?

Scotchman — I am, sir. The corpse owed me ten dollars.

Math, Geography, Industrial Arts, Agriculture Get New Teachers for Fall

New instructors in mathematics, geography and industrial arts, and an assistant professor of agriculture will join the West Texas State College faculty when the fall semester opens in September.

They are John L. Shipley, assistant professor of agriculture; Fletcher A. Moseley, instructor in mathematics; James E. Thompson, instructor in geography; and Craig Johnson, instructor in industrial arts.

Shipley comes to West Texas State from Texarkana, where, for the past two years, he has been farm service director of KCMC-TV. Before joining the television station, he taught agriculture at Texarkana College and in high schools in Kaufman and Runnels counties.

Succeeding Aubrey L. Crossland, who retired in May, Shipley served in the Army during World War II and the Korean War. He received his B. S. and M. E. degrees from Texas A&M. He is married and has a son.

Moseley, who is also married and has one child, has been working toward his M. A. degree this summer at Texas Tech, where he earned his B. S. degree. He has been a part-time instructor at Tech. A graduate of Plainview High School, Moseley attended Boston University before going to Tech, wher he was a member of Alpha Chi, national honor society, and Kappa Mu Epsilon, national mathematics fraternity. He served in the Navy during World War II and the Korean War.

A graduate of West Texas State, Thompson has completed work toward an M. A. degree at the University of Nebraska, where he was a graduate assistant in geography. For the past three years he taught at Brownfield High School.

Thompson, a graduate of Amarillo High School, was a charter member of Gamma Theta Upsilon, national geography fraternity, at WT, and he helped organize a chapter of the society at Nebraska. He is married.

Johnson joins the WT staff after teaching industrial arts for the past three years at Hereford High School. He was formerly principal of Hedley High School and was a teacher and superintendent of schools at Lelia Lake.

A graduate of Texas Tech, where he earned both the B. S. and M. E. degrees, Johnson is a member of the Texas State Teachers Association, is chairman of the Panhandle Industrial Arts Club, and was a member of Phi Delta Kappa at Tech. He is married and has a son.

Teaching by TV Offered Again

A teaching by television series, by which superintendents of schools may obtain additional teachers for the 1957-58 year, will be offered for the second year by Amarillo station KGNC-TV.

The series, "Adventures in Education," will start Sept. 28, but interested persons may enroll now at West Texas State College and begin teaching when area schools open next week.

The project by the Texas Education Agency makes it possible for college graduates, who do not have teaching certificates, to teach while they become eligible for the certificate. The graduate enrolls for the television course at WT, is issued a teacher permit for the year, and may begin teaching while he views the programs each week.

Persons interested should enroll with Curtis Babcock, coordinator of public services at WT, before the series begins at 7:30 a. m. on Sept. 28.

Dr. Arthur H. Moehlman, a University of Texas education professor, will conduct the course. It will be a 30-minute program each week for 26 weeks. Some 17 Texas stations will televise the program.

Any graduate of an accredited college or university is eligible to enroll. Regular college credit may be earned, and teacher permits given may be renewed for three years. Additional college work in education would bring a permanent certificate.

Dr. Sheffy--

thousands of miles in its behalf, and, according to Dr. Hill, "never turned in an expense account."

Shortly before Dr. Sheffy became field secretary for the society, it had begun plans for a museum building, setting a goal of $50,000 for the project. It was Dr. Sheffy who brought in the first cash donations toward the building.

With the depression, the project almost died. The Texas Legislature, however, through the work of several Panhandle representatives, passed a bill providing $25,000 for museum construction, with the stipulation that a like amount be matched by citizens of the Panhandle. Largely "through the tireless efforts of Dr. Sheffy, the necessary money was raised," Dr. Hill said.

"Dr. Sheffy was the best loved man in the Panhandle back in the days he worked so hard for the museum," Dr. Hill said.

In August 1932, Dr. Sheffy went to Austin to deposit the $25,000 in the state treasury, less than a week before the expiration date of the state appropriation for the museum. The history professor later in the 1930's, especially during Texas' centennial year, made many other trips to Austin, seeking additional aid for the museum and its building program.

Dr. Sheffy, one of the leaders in preserving the artifacts and memoirs of the pioneers of the Panhandle, could himself be counted a pioneer in the area. Though he was born in Henrietta, he was reared on a farm near Plainview.

He remembers freighting goods with his father between Amarillo and Plainview when there were no railroads between Big Spring and Canyon. He came to West Texas State when only one building—the Administration Building—was the college, and was named to succeed Dr. Hill in the history department by R. B. Cousins, first president of the institution.

Dr. Sheffy came to West Texas State from Wellington, where he was superintendent of schools. He had earlier held the same position for schools in Stratford and Matador.

He earned his A. B. degree from Southwestern University in Georgetown and his M. A. from the University of Texas. The Litt. D. degree was conferred upon Dr. Sheffy by Austin College. He was on leave one year for post graduate study at the University of Chicago.

A scholar in American history, and particularly the history of the Plains, Dr. Sheffy has written numerous articles for historical reviews. He is the author of "The Life and Times of Timothy Dwight Hobart," a biography of the noted Pampa rancher. In 1953, Dr. Sheffy collaborated with Dr. Ima Barlow, another WT professor, in writing a history of Texas. The book, for junior high school students, is widely used in the state's schools.

He has been a long-time member of the American Historical Association, Texas State Historical Association, and the Texas State Teachers Association. Dr. Sheffy has been honored by biographical listing in the current edition of the Directory of American Scholars and Who's Who in America.

Dr. and Mrs. Sheffy both have been active in sponsoring and assisting with student activities at WT. Mrs. Sheffy was sponsor of Delta Zeta Chi, a social soroity, when it was organized in 1936.

The couple has not announced plans, but Dr. Sheffy has often told his friends that he is not retiring, "just changing jobs."

DR. HATTIE M. ANDERSON

Society Founder Ends WT Service

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson has lined two walls of her living room and bedroom with bookcases. She plans to do "a little reading."

Professor of history at West Texas State College since 1920, Dr. Anderson is retiring Aug. 31. The reading is the only definite part of her plans.

Back in 1920, when the energetic Miss Anderson came to the Panhandle to join the West Texas faculty, she was engrossed with the idea of being in a frontier society. Her interest in studying a pioneer area while the original settlers still lived led to the founding of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Though Dr. Anderson is called "the founder" of the society, and has worked closely with the group from its beginning, she said that teaching has been her main interest at West Texas State.

"Telling of the wonders of our country, and the things which have made it great has been my greatest joy," Dr. Anderson said.

Miss Anderson has not only taught American history, but she has been responisible for the "teaching of teachers" of history, for she has taught the department's teaching methods courses since her first year at WT. When the student teaching program was developed at the college, she became supervisor of all history trainees.

A native of Missouri, Dr. Anderson began teaching when she was 16, working in several rural schools before going to Sedalia High School. She later taught at Synodical College in Fulton and Missouri Wesleyan College, and was a teaching assistant at the University of Missouri.

Dr. Anderson earned a Bachelor of Pedagogy degree from Central Missouri State Teachers College, and her B. S., M. A., and Ph. D. degrees from the University of Missouri. She also studied one year at the University of Chicago.

It was only recently that Dr. Anderson revealed to Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus, an amusing incident in connection with her being hired for her history post at WT.

Dr. Hill traveled to Norborne, Mo., to interview Miss Anderson, and since she lived in the country, she arranged to meet him at a minister's home. Her good friend, the minister's wife, prepared a bountiful meal, and the minister stood by. The couple thought Miss Anderson and her caller were to be married.

Dr. Anderson's idea for a regional historical society caught on immediately, and the group was organized during her first year at WT. She was chairman of a committee to draw up the society's constitution and by-laws and was one of the co-signers of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society's state charter.

She was corresponding secretary for the society during its early years, served on the board of directors, and has been its corresponding secretary continuously since 1940.

"From the beginning, we wanted the society to be for all the Panhandle," she said. "So many people have done so much for the museum, it is difficult to assign credit."

Dr. Anderson has had a propensity for organizing throughout her career. She was one of the organizers of the Pi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma in Amarillo, and was responsible for the beginning of the Canyon and Amarillo branches of the American Association of University Women. She has been president of both organizations and has been a state board member for AAUW.

Her love of American history has made her an active member of the American Historical Association, Mississippi Valley Historical Society, Missouri Historical Society, and Texas State Historical Association. She has attended many of those associations' conventions and has served on several national committees.

A member of the Texas State Teachers Association and National Education Association, Dr. Anderson utilized her membership in the National Council for the Social Studies to bring to the WT campus for many years nationally-known figures to speak to students. She was on the council's editorial board for "The Social Studies" for 20 years.

A Sunday School teacher, Dr. Anderson encouraged scholarship among her students at WT through "tough courses." She was a sponsor for the college's chapter of Alpha Chi, national honor society, during most of her teaching years.

Dr. Anderson has written numerous articles for historical journals, and in 1943, she and Dr. Hill published an American history text, "My Country and Yours." The book, for sixth and seventh grade students, was revised, and is a state-adopted text book in five southern states.

The history professor was listed in this year's edition of the Directory of American Scholars, and has been honored with listings in such publications as American Women, Who's Who in the South and Southwest, and the Texian Who's Who.

Mrs. Harold Doll and children of Boulder, Colo. visited her mother Mrs. W. E. Tucker, last week.

One-Man Art Show Begins Sunday in Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum

Derald Swineford, head of the art department at Oklahoma College for Women and former member of the faculty of West Texas State, has been invited to hold a one-man show at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum beginning Sunday.

The show will be Swineford's first one-man show in Canyon since he was a member of the WT faculty and the exhibit will include both wood and stone sculpture, landscapes and portraits in oils and water colors.

Of particular interest to residents of this area will be two oil landscapes—one of a corral in Palo Duro Canyon and the other of a creek near Canyon.

Swineford received national recognition recently in an issue of the magazine "Widening Horizons." The article was accompanied by a full page reproduction of a mural he painted for the OCW dining hall and another picture of an Indian sculpture.

The article said in part:

"A distinguished figure in the art world of the west is Derald Thomas Swineford, head of the art department, Oklahoma College for Women, Chickasha, Okla. A versatile artist, excelling in various branches, he has developed the skill of a master in the treatment of wood as a sculptural medium and has produced outstanding results as a muralist. As a print maker, photographer, portrait and landscape artist, he has a recognized place in the art circle of Oklahoma and beyond."

Swineford was manager of the art school at Oklahoma Art Center in Oklahoma City for several years prior to World War II. He was also acting head of the art department at Wichita University, Wichita, Kan., for a brief period.

He served as art supervisor for the demonstration school at WT for two years, and following his discharge from the service after the war, he began his duties at OCW.

Swineford's work has been exhibited in leading art centers and he has received numerous awards, among them the Letzeiser Medal in Art from Oklahoma University and a gold medal in sculpture and a silver medal in painting for the Tulsa Art Association.

OLIVER
Self-Propelled
Saves More of Every Crop—
Grain, Beans, Corn

Here's the way to save money—right through corn harvest. Oliver's low cylinder makes this possible. Feeding is flat, direct. You wade through the heaviest grain stands and tallest weeds without slugging.

What's more, Oliver's self-propelled corn header is the only one that cuts and handles the entire corn stalk. Gone are the snapping rolls—so are the big shelling losses. You save up to 15% more of your corn crop.

Come in and see all the other Oliver advantages. You get the biggest separating capacity of all in a self-propelled, with 57-bushel grain tank, grain-saving semi-revolving reel. Other advantages include adjustable tread width, 6-forward-speed tractor transmission, choice of variable-speed belt or straight drive, diesel or gasoline engine.

OLIVER

If you are going to need a new combine this fall you should buy soon, for we will get a price raise in the next few days. Come by and see our Model 40.
